RE: Consumer comments on APS rate case, Dockets #E-01345A-16-0036 and E-01345A-16-0123

Dear Chairman Forese and Commissioners:

As an APS customer, I understand the need to provide reliable electricity to customers. However, by reducing the amount of energy used, customers can help APS reduce the need for costly infrastructure. The increases proposed in its rate plan ignore this fact and, in fact, punish consumers who work hard to reduce consumption.

The proposal would almost double the monthly service fee for most customers, which will negatively affect all customers, regardless of how much energy they use. This increase is unfair, as costs should be based on the amount of energy used by each customer. I urge the Commission to modify this provision as APS has not justified this significant increase.

I also oppose the mandatory residential demand charges and was pleased to see they are not included in the proposed settlement. Such a charge is also unfair, as it decreases incentive for consumers to reduce energy use during the rest of the month. I appreciate that the Commission did not approve these charges in the UNS and TEP rate cases, and I encourage you to please reject including them in the APS rate case, as well.

I am concerned that APS wants to automatically enroll new customers in its Time-of-Use rates, rather than allowing those customers to choose the best plan for their needs. People have different schedules. Some people may not be at home during the day, whereas others work at night or from home. Forcing these customers into one particular plan could drastically increase the amount they pay and also eliminates consumer choice. Further, the most effective time-of-use windows are three hours or less. Please consider modifying this in the proposal.

Finally, I want to express my strong support for energy efficiency and rooftop solar and encourage the Commission to support these clean energy programs in this and in other proceedings.

Thank you for accepting public comment on this issue.

APS needs to invest its money, just like the rest of us, into becoming more efficient rather than putting the burden on us to become more efficient and then charging us more anyway. We have changed to all LED bulbs, we turn on the TV less often, we don't wash partial loads of anything, we keep the heat low and the AC is set to 78. We are seniors on a fixed income and we CAN'T afford higher utilities! YOU CAN make other changes, other than raising our rates, so DO THE RIGHT THING and fix YOUR PROBLEMS before screwing us!

Consumer choice is what makes us appreciate the service received from APS. Your current system acknowledges that our lifestyles are all different. I have found, among your choices, the plan which works best for my husband and me. We opted out of the time of use plan because we actually found our savings to be greater on the regular plan. Please recognize that we, as your customers, respond better to choice rather than mandate.

I am a widow, almost 82y/o living off SS & small stipend of less than $300/mos. My electric ?? bill is already horrendous. I have protested APS's outrageous high prices for years. When Gilbert & APS conspired years ago in the '70's, I believe to give APS a portion of Gilbert, I protested, wishing to be in the SRP area. I was a widow then struggling to raise my 3 children. I lost then, the conspiracy to give Gilbert to APS was bought, just as APS has been able to buy the Corporation Commission since with Dark Money. Today all five members are Republican, bought in last election. I guess death is our only "out" from APS, Corporation Commission & Dark ?.

I do want to thank you for not having instituting mandatory demand charges. I tried voluntary demand charges for a short period, and it was incredibly difficult to predict my usage each month. One bad (high use) day, could really increase my bill. So thank you for still letting us have a choice.

I am Pastor at Community Christian Church in Tempe. We've been an APS customer before APS was APS (70 years). We are grateful that the demand charges were dropped. We find the demand charges for our "commercial rated" church impossible both to understand and control. The peak always happens when we are housing homeless people in our community, penalizing us for our community service to the poor.

We cannot afford a higher power bill. And the rich get richer...do what small businesses do...cut salaries of owners, CEOs or whatever other title they may have. The increases proposed will especially hurt seniors living on fixed incomes. We would be particularly penalized by the proposed rate plan increases since we are seniors on a limited fixed income and try our best to keep our costs down by reducing our consumption. This proposed plan is especially egregious for seniors and low income people.

My husband and I are retirees who incorporated many energy saving actions for our home. We have added energy efficient windows, vegetation and trees and a solar hot water heater to our house to save energy. Our thermostat is set at 80 degrees all summer even though we are on a time-of-rate use plan. We would love to add rooftop solar to our home to help save money as well as the environment. Please don't hurt seniors by increasing our monthly service charge instead APS should increase the enrollment on the time-of-use rates.

My daughter a single mother and my mother both live in the APS area my daughter works her tail off to make ends meet and my mother is on social security. If this unjust increase were to take place both would be severely affected as many others will be to. It might become a choice of food or electricity. Not a just decision anyone should make. Both already make concessions to make their payments for energy. I fear they will get sick or worse in the middle of summer. I work very hard to reduce consumption -- I keep heat off in the winter and air conditioning off in the summer, so I do not need solar. The sun keeps my home warm in the winter, and my closing windows after 8 a.m. keeps my home cool in the summer. I make a point of pulling out plugs of appliances that I don't need, and I wash clothes at night. I use NO outdoor lights, and inside I use energy-saving light bulbs.

I understand that the ACC staff, RUCO, SWEEP, and a number of other groups indicated that NO RATE HIKE was necessary and that a reduction in rates should be possible. This hike would hurt the poor and elderly on fixed incomes. I have attended many ACC meetings in the past 3 years and have never heard a viable reason for the rate hikes. As a solar owner, I am helping to reduce both the need for longer, wasteful transmission and the building extremely costly, unnecessary new facilities especially natural gas. Thirty years have been wasted by irresponsible, climate change deniers that knew the truth of our ever degrading situation and have put all of us in jeopardy. Solar on all levels should be encouraged and the old model of electric generation be discarded. I do not see the impending rate hikes improving our position as users or creators of clean electricity and is only to maintain the status quo for a dying energy model.

You don't need to be sticking it to people who are already strapped. You should be encouraging solar energy which is cleaner anyway. Not sure why a state like AZ that has so much sun has so little solar energy, relatively. It's ridiculous. Prayer isn't going to fix the problems in the world, actual actions are. So you should be supporting solar usage, no profiting from dirty energy and then giving people rate hikes.

My family and I have steadily reduced the amount of electricity that we use in our home. One way we have done this is by not using the heat in the winter months. I feel if you add a tiny $450 retail wind generator on every customers property. By providing the equipment there is no paying the customer for the electric power produced, the utility gains all the electric produced and in less than a year that electric power will become free of cost and become pure profit for the investing utility. The proposed fees could easily become unnecessary and could easily be used for leveraging the install of these cheap residential wind generators on every customers property.

I have put solar panels on my roof in hopes of reducing energy use and cost; I use my evaporative cooler as long into the season as possible, planted a ton of trees around my house, and drive a hybrid car for the same reasons. APS proposed increases would simply wipe out all my efforts in order to preserve its status as BIG ENERGY. Please oppose APS rate increases!

Please reconsider this idea. Many of us here in AZ are on tight budgets already. There's plenty of sun available, encourage the local power companies to allow, rather than restrict, the installation and use of solar options, maybe even doing a buy back or offering tax credit for installing solar systems. Thanks for your consideration.

There are millions of square feet of available roof tops, all close to connections to the grid in most cases. If APS would work with its customers to "lease" this space in exchange for providing electricity, they would generate millions of kilowatts for the grid over time, be able to supply that electricity into the grid, provide reasonable rates for customers, and help us all to reduce our reliance on fossil fuels (fuels that someday will be exhausted, and not moving toward reducing that reliance just kicks the can down the road). Places like AZ blessed with lots of sun should take clear advantage of that. Our power companies can and should help us all, instead of just wanting to raise our rates to their benefit!

It is difficult for me to afford my APS bill now. If it increases a lot, that will help me decide to build a solar home that is off the grid. A big increase in the monthly electric fees is unjustified. I will not be held hostage to that. If you insist on allowing this, I believe you will push many people off the grid which will reduce your earnings. I know that is not your goal. Please re-think this. A reasonable, minimal increase every year or so is understandable. A huge increase? No!

I would like to install rooftop solar, but my electric coop wants to charge $50 per month for the use/maintenance of the electric grid. But my average bill is quite a bit less than that, so it's a big disincentive to going solar.

Please bear in mind that old and disabled people are the ones who are at home all day during the hot months. People in that situation have to use more air conditioning during the day than people who are out at a workplace -- so that limits the energy savings they can realize during peak hours. Nonetheless, I am generally in favor of using the rate structure and off-peak discounts, to shift energy use into off-peak times. I just think the rate structure should be balanced, with the needs of old and disabled people who are home all day, and living on fixed incomes, taken into account.

I do think your policies and APS's rates ought to be structured to encourage people to conserve energy, as much as possible. That includes supporting rooftop solar, and using "time advantage" plans to shift energy use to off-peak times, to the extent we can. And I think that any 87.5% increase is, by definition, unjustified.

Don't you know that many of us are just hanging on by our fingernails trying to keep financially afloat right now? Times have been really tough since the financial meltdown that occurred at the end of the Bush administration. For years we have been encouraged to use conservation with our utilities but now APS proposed to penalize those people that conserve their electricity usage. Also, I use gas as well so my electricity usage is logically lower. I have taken many steps to lower my energy usage. Charges should only be based on usage NOT a flat rate to benefit investors. Actions that discourage and penalize energy conservation on the part of customers, in other words taking away incentives from people to excel, rewarding and or punishing all equally, regardless of performance, which we so often see in todays society, is as unsustainable as it is unjust. So far, we shut off our hot water heater when not in use. Next we'll put in our own solar hot water heater. Eventually, we will have our own personal solar cells. At that point, we will kiss APS good-bye forever.

Many of our neighbors who hired solar companies did so because they were told that APS would buy-back excess energy thus reducing their electric utility bill. Now, if APS is allowed to increase the monthly service charge for most APS customers by 87.5%, there will be absolutely no savings. If APS gets away with this ridiculous increase, many people will be discouraged from roof-top solar. Is that APS's intention?

I have been able to reduce my total monthly APS bill to between $25 and $30 (without going solar), of which the cost electricity is about $7.50. This leaves about $15 in service fees. An increase of 87.5% would add about $13 to my bill, of which I would be gaining no benefit, while my decrease in electricity use along with that of other APS customers has saved APS from having to build more generating plants and infrastructure. It would also cause an increase to the roughly additional $2.50 in taxes I pay. This rate increase will stifle conservation.

Although I am not in the APS user area, my business takes me throughout the state. I broker energy efficient products to help commercial businesses save money. All of the products that I broker help reduce the demand on the infrastructure. I broker 3 types of building materials including one that is an exterior coating rates R15, LED Lighting, a voltage regulation system, as well as solar. If your goal is to reduce demand, then raise your energy efficiency rebates so we can get more customers reducing their usage. Please, put your money behind what you say instead of increasing your profits. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Trudi Wieduwilt

Please adjust your monthly service charge. The proposed rate is significantly too high. I have two houses in your service area. You also have a large retirement population who the time of use might not work out best for them. Elderly people who are susceptible to heat exhaustion need the choice to be on the regular plan from the beginning.

Sincerely,
